

Best Caravan & Motor Homes Manufacturer 2022

When it comes to caravans, mobile homes, and other portable accommodations solutions, clients deserve to be able to attain products they trust from brands they can rely on. LMC Caravan is one such company. It combines the knowledge gained and trust built over 65 years of experience with a determination to keeping up with the changing needs of its market segment, merging traditional expertise and contemporary diligence into its clients' go-to solution for all things motorhomes and caravans.

Selling a huge variety of future-proof caravans, motorhomes, and camper vans, LMC Caravan's design engineers have created the cleverest and most dependable designs for their products. Nominally, they champion lightweight furniture and serve both entry-level and experienced travellers, as well as for family and couple specific motor home layouts, allowing its clients access to the best, most bespoke, and most empathically designed caravans, motorhomes, and camper vans on the market. In this manner, it does not just see its duty as one of selling a camper van and sending the customer away, but one of ensuring they find their true motor home match, and that they feel supported and satisfied in their purchase for years.

Indeed, by doing all it can be provide comfortable, high-quality, and homely motorised accommodations, it hopes it can provide a space that a client can truly invest in and rely upon; a home away from home with all their needed amenities present and creature comforts provided for. Having undergone a major plant expansion in 2018, it has been able to bolster this determination for greater client-focused success by being able to bring to bear yet more state-of-the-art technologies.

Moreover, with the new plant doubling its production capacity, it was able to undergo a complete overhaul of its workflows, investing in a water jet cutter, roof production line, edge-creation centre, and hail-proof roofing. With these all being innovations that directly benefit a client, it has done an impeccable job of 'show don't tell' when it comes to displaying its consistent drive towards growth that will better the customer experience by giving them access to the highest standards of workmanship.

Down to earth, passionate, and deeply dedication, its 12-year water ingress warranty gives it clients peace of mind throughout the purchasing process and beyond. Indeed, with all this in mind, it is easy to see how LMC Caravan pulled through the turmoil of the pandemic with flying colours, helping the travel-hungry to continue to enjoy wonderful holidays even throughout the outbreak by giving them self-contained, private, accommodation-included travel options. Therefore, it has successfully kept showing its client base that motor home travel is one of the best holidaymaking options out there. Between the standards of its manufacturing and post-sale-care, LMC Caravan forecasts continued growth and maintained good will, excited to see what new heights it can take itself to in the future.
